POWERED BY TEACH TO LEAD Summits support organizations interested in meeting the unique needs of promising teacher-led projects through their own teacher leadership summits built on the Teach to Lead model. The Powered By Teach to Lead approach assists teachers and key stakeholders in developing actionable goals through use of the logic model and support from critical friends. Survey responses reflect participants’ confidence working with diverse stakeholders and sense of empowerment to make a positive change in education. Across various sites, Powered by Teach to Lead participants report satisfaction with the summits and feel that they positively impact their professional growth.

GOALS

- Highlight the good work that is already happening around the country.
- Share resources that can help individuals, schools, districts, and states expand their opportunities for teacher leadership.
- Encourage educators at all levels to commit to advancing opportunities for teacher leadership.

HOST A #POWEREDBYTTL EVENT

Powered By Teach to Lead summits, hosted by Teach to Lead Supporting Organizations, give more participants greater access to teacher leadership development opportunities.

JOIN THE TEACH TO LEAD NETWORK

Become an official Teach to Lead Supporting Organization.

REQUEST TO HOST AN EVENT

To be considered a Powered by Teach to Lead event, the Supporting Organization must agree to adhere to the essential elements outlined in an understanding document and indicate what resources they will need from the Teach to Lead partners.

PLAN WITH SUPPORT

The Teach to Lead team will consult on planning through webinars and conference calls based on their capacity. The event must incorporate the provided Powered by Teach to Lead logo. The Supporting Organization must secure its own funding for the entire event and is responsible for logistics. This must be a not-for-profit event. No participants should be charged a fee for attendance, although they may be charged for the cost of meals when no other funding is available.

FOLLOW UP AND EVALUATE

Following the event, the Supporting Organization must conduct a post-event survey to follow up with participants; debrief with Teach to Lead partners on delivery (e.g., logistics, processes), accomplishments, lessons learned, substantive outcomes, and next steps; and craft a brief overview to share with the public, which may be posted on the Teach to Lead website or in the newsletter.

ENGAGE WITH US

Facebook & Twitter
@TeachToLead

Instagram
@teach_to_lead

Relevant hashtags
#PoweredbyTTL
#TTLNetwork

Website
www.teachtolead.org

Email
info@teachtolead.org
Since the POWERED BY TEACH TO LEAD MODEL was launched in 2016:

- 4,100 PARTICIPANTS have attended
- 48 POWERED BY TEACH TO LEAD SUMMITS

WHAT IS OUR NATIONAL REACH?

Powered by Teach to Lead Summits have happened in the following locations:

- Alabama, Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Maine, Michigan, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, South Carolina, Utah, Virginia, and Dubai (United Arab Emirates).

The following have hosted one: Alabama, Arizona, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Maine, Michigan, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, South Carolina, Utah, Virginia, and Dubai (United Arab Emirates).

- 94% of summit attendees agreed or strongly agreed that the event was valuable.
- 93% of respondents agreed or strongly agreed that they feel empowered to work with diverse stakeholders to improve student learning.
- 94% of respondents agree or strongly agree that teachers feel empowered to make a positive change.

> "The best collaborative opportunity for participants and stakeholders to build relationships and impact growth."
> —Louisiana PBTTL Participant

> "Thank you for providing the model for teacher-led events. Most teachers do not have experience running things like national summits, workshops, or conferences, so having a template and expertise to help guide a group is most appreciated.”
> —Alabama PBTTL Event Lead